

Biological class × interaction type distribution — training set

Raw counts — training set (post-augmentation)

Row-normalised — proportion of each biological class

